

Mike Schuchardt

I was raised in a Christian household and have remained a committed, practicing Christian throughout my life. I have lived in Maryland since birth and moved to this region in 1996. My wife and I have been married for 38 years, and we are blessed with two children and four grandchildren. My parents and in-laws are approaching 90 years of age so I understand firsthand the responsibilities of the “sandwich generation” as well as the needs and concerns of an aging population.

I began attending DRCC in 2001, when the church was located in the former Safeway shopping center. Since then, I have served multiple full terms on the Trustee Board, including during periods of transition and relocation, and now at our current “light on the hill” campus. I have also been actively involved in youth ministry during my children’s formative years and have remained connected to the middle school Johnstown ministry for the past 15 years.

Professionally, I hold a Bachelor of Science in Accounting from Salisbury University and recently concluded a 39-year career in commercial banking, with a focus on institutional growth and risk management. Over that time, I underwrote and managed credit for thousands of businesses across Maryland, gaining valuable insight into the principles that drive long-term success and those that lead to failure.

I believe the church, while mission-driven and centered on pointing people to Christ, also requires sound stewardship, accountability, and disciplined decision-making. My experience allows me to contribute to both the operational and spiritual responsibilities of leadership. I bring a thoughtful, steady approach, and I am comfortable expressing my perspective respectfully while remaining grounded in principle.

DRCC has been our church home since Lynda and I moved here 12 years ago. We will celebrate 36 years of marriage this year, having been blessed with 10 kids, now spanning ages 34 to 14, with 4 kids married and our 7th grandchild recently arriving in January this year. Family time is my favorite time.

I grew up in Iowa among rural communities and churches where my Dad served as a Lutheran pastor. I attended Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, where I met the love of my life. We were married in 1990 and moved to Iowa City, where I later graduated with a Masters degree in physical therapy at the University of Iowa in 1992.

Our journeys through locations and congregations have been spiritually fulfilling, with opportunities to serve and new building projects in 4 consecutive churches. Tucson, Seattle, Kennett Square PA, and Mount Airy have had a common thread of God's growth plan wherever we have been. Lynda and I served largely in children's ministry roles with our growing family, later expanding to Parenting classes (Lynda's expertise and authorship of Parenting Sensibly). I have also enjoyed SWAT team and Foster Serve opportunities as a semi-skilled builder among accomplished contractors and friends.

My career is in healthcare, first as a physical therapist and rehab director, followed by a career in biopharmaceuticals. Both have been rewarding in different ways- one as a clinician directly treating patients and the other in a variety of manufacturer positions. I've held roles across operations, insight, market access, and medical, most recently leading a field-based medical team informing and collaborating across multiple disease states. My motivation at work is to ensure science-driven healthcare and patient access to medication and testing.

My experience in the healthcare marketplace has come with immersion in finance, personnel management, and business operations; skills that I would like to bring to the church community.

I thank you so much for your consideration and I would be honored and blessed to have the opportunity to serve DRCC and our community in this Board Trustee role.

I was born in Ohio and raised in the Presbyterian Church, where my parents' faithful involvement shaped my lifelong trust in God.

My wife, Judy, and I moved to Mount Airy in 1994. In 2025 we sold our home to our oldest son, TJ, and his wife, Lauren, and moved to New Market to stay close to our family, including our grandchildren Ethan and Gwen. Our youngest son, Tyler, lives in Hagerstown.

We were members of Calvary United Methodist Church in Mount Airy for twenty years. Judy served on staff, and I served as Chairperson of the recreation ministry, on the finance committee, as a Sunday morning greeter, and as a leader in Celebrate Recovery.

We began attending Damascus Road Community Church (DRCC) in 2018. Although I signed my Membership Covenant in 2019, I became active in 2021 when we took part in a marriage class. In the spring 2022, I began to co-lead a Life Group that is still together. Later that year I participated in Rooted.

Since then, I have served at DRCC as the Local Mission Champion for Listen Love Pray, coached small group leaders, served as an altar minister, and supported the Rooted leadership team. I also work with the Waterboyz on the leadership team of Expedition. Through these roles, DRCC has become a close church family.

I have helped lead the Listen Love Pray Foundation since its inception in 2017, serving on the board of directors, Treasurer, Men's Recovery Ministry Coordinator, among other roles. One of the greatest gifts from this work with LLP has been learning how to pray for others.

Professionally, my career has been in automotive repair industry across dealerships, a national chain, and independent shops. I earned a business administration degree from Towson State University in 1988. Outside of work, I enjoy golf, gardening, grandparenting (I'm "G" to my grandkids), and have a new passion for pickleball.

I am honored to be considered for service on the Board of Trustees at Damascus Road Community Church, and I believe God has equipped me to serve well in that role.
